The Fellowship implies carrying out the activities briefly mentioned below at Dipartimento di Filosofia dell'Università degli Studi di Milano and under the supervision of Prof. Lucchiari Claudio within the research programme "MuSa: cognitive and emotional aspects of the relationship between Museums and Health", of the following research program and its specific aims:

The MuSa project more than a spin-off of ASBA (Lucchiari et al., 2024) represents a substantial extension of it in terms of both methodology and stakeholder involvement. In particular, the methodology of the MuSa project will allow for the combination of scientific rigor and ecological validity, making use of standardized psychometric instruments, measurement of objective parameters, as well as the collection of qualitative data within the environments of the museums involved. Specifically, during the first part of the study, participants will have the opportunity to visit the halls of the participating museums and take part in a session, group or individual, of an innovative technique based on the simplification and adaptation of the principles of Visual Thinking Strategies (VTS; Yenawine, 1999) and expressive therapies developed during the ASBA project. The technique involves an art expert, in our case one of the conservators provided by the museum, and a researcher. The need to develop and validate such a technique stems from the more widespread requests from museums about the possibility of both conducting research at their venues and putting new initiatives aimed at health promotion on a self-sustaining and economically viable basis.

The research activities are reported here:

1. Collaboration with scientific research managers in literature analysis, development of research design and choice of psychometric instruments;
